Christmas wreath. The Christmas wreath is beautifully made with spruce, holly and a cute pink ribbon. It welcomes the sweet Christmas time and brings Christmas vibes at home.

VILLEVAESSE

Mistletoe. The mistletoe has a long history of mystery and magic and is said to keep evil spirits at bay. Today it is associated with romance and love, and if you position yourself just right under the mistletoe, maybe your sweetheart will come by and give you a kiss.

Driving home for christmas. The bags are packed, the presents are wrapped, and the expectations are high. At the end of the road, we'll be greeted by our nearest and dearest. So off we go!

The christmas tree. Tall or short, bulky or slender. Christmas trees come in many sizes and shades of green, all with their own particular charm. We bring them into our homes and hang them with garlands, granny's Christmas ornaments, sparkling lights and homemade paper hearts. Each family has its own traditions, but mostly the tree is crowned with a star.

Christmas tree & little car. Year after year, the same tradition. Everybody into the car, and off we go. Choosing and cutting the perfect Christmas tree. Should we pick that tall silver fir or that chubby little one with a crooked top and loads of charm? You'll know the right one when you see it.

Let it snow. Christmas tree & Little car. Cedar cone. Christmas in the green house

Let it snow. Finally it's Christmas and the snow falls gently. The car is packed with good cheer and Christmas presents for all, as we head out to celebrate the holidays with friends and family. Rooftops, lamp posts and pavements are blanketed in white. We'll build a snowman, go for walks in the creaking snow – and maybe take a ride in the cable car to see the snow-covered world from above.

Ready for christmas. Winter wonderland. What better way to describe this beautiful winter landscape? Finally the Christmas tree is being brought home. Now the holidays can truly begin.

Christmas in the greenhouse. Come, let us celebrate Christmas in the greenhouse. Even though it's cold outside, the greenhouse looks warm and welcoming.

White christmas. The snow falls gently over the small town. The anticipation is building, as you make the final preparations for Christmas: picking out the Christmas tree, wrapping the Christmas presents and shopping for the last Christmas treats. Fortunately, the biggest Christmas dream has already come true – it's going to be a white Christmas.

Santa & Rudolf. Ho ho ho, Santa is on the way in his sledge full of gifts for all the sweet children. Rudolf is showing the way with his red nose, so all the gifts will be delivered the right place. Santa is waiving to you from the sledge, and he can't wait to give you your gift.

Santa & Rudolf. Did you remember to write Santa a letter with your wishes?

Everwrap #07. Gift wrapping is something special for you and your loved ones. In Denmark alone we use more than 800 tons of gift wrap every Christmas. But this is gift wrap you can keep forever! How? Well, it feels like luxury paper, but is made from 100% chemical free plastic. Therefore... It does not rip when opened. It does not reveal white lines when folded. It does not break when you tear off tape. In other words, you can reuse it in various ways.
