HOME AND LIFESTYLE

AW·21

AW•21

This season we have focused on living a gentler lifestyle; consciously considering our impact on the environment with sustainable materials, both natural and recycled, whilst celebrating the unique qualities that the handmade process brings to our collections.

We have introduced subtle colour tones in the form of soft cotton velvets and recycled handwoven textiles, which blend beautifully with the organic shapes of recycled etched glassware, and the smooth contours of handcrafted furniture.

Our collections work cohesively together and celebrate the handmade process; we choose to see beauty in imperfection. From the refined silhouettes of a soft industrial aesthetic, to the natural opulence of warm, antique brass and the authentic nature of reclaimed materials, each piece in our collection is designed with longevity in mind.

The sustainable movement is here to stay and we are proud to be leading the way in ethical, eco-friendly and handmade homewares. There is still a lot more work to do, but we are committed to working hard towards our goals. Thank you for being part of the journey.

The Beauty of Handmade

An important founding principle of Nkuku was to support and work with artisans throughout the world, with particular focus on handmade techniques and traditional skills. We were inspired by the artisans we met but were also aware of the challenges they faced.

"We are fortunate to work with artisans who share their talent, enthusiasm and patience with us; this has helped to create our collections and has taught us some astounding techniques and practices along the way."

kitchen ISLAND

The heart of the kitchen, an island is often the hub that we gather around. Whatever the purpose - preparing food, eating suppers, drinks with friends - make a feature of pendant lighting, add decorative vases and dress with reclaimed and wooden bowls. Bar stools are an essential item and the more stylish and comfortable the better. With this in mind, we know our collections also need to withstand heavy use. We believe the most suitable materials are sustainable woods, tactile and durable leather, and solid and sturdy iron, all carefully crafted in our own unique designs.
